Peer Review Policy and Editorial Procedures

International Relations and Diplomacy is a refereed journal. All research articles in this journal undergo rigorous peer review, based on initial editor screening and anonymous refereeing by at least two anonymous referees. All papers considered appropriate for this journal are reviewed anonymously by at least two outside reviewers. The review process usually takes 2 to 3 weeks. The Editor reserves the right to make any necessary changes in the papers, or request the author to do so, or reject the paper. A copy of the edited paper along with the first proofs will be sent to the author for proofreading. They should be corrected and returned to the Editor within five days. Once the final version of the paper has been accepted, authors are requested not to make further changes to the text.
